November 3rd, 2020 . ALBYN MEDICAL SL, a CREO MEDICAL company specialised in Urology and Gastroenterology, announced that it has acquired BOUCART MEDICAL Srl. a leading company that distributes endoscopy accessories based in Brussels, Belgium.

BOUCART MEDICAL Srl, is the largest independent supplier of gastrointestinal ("GI") endoscopy consumables in Belgium and Luxembourg, and it was founded in 1991 by Brigitte Boucart. BOUCART MEDICAL Srl excellent reputation has the confidence of more than 30 top suppliers around the world in the GI and Surgical market.

Since its inception, BOUCART MEDICAL Srl has pursued a strategy of investment in product portfolios and sales force. This strategy relies on long-standing relationships with manufacturers and an excellent market reputation thanks to a high level of service quality.

With this operation, BOUCART MEDICAL Srl will benefit from the commercial and distribution platform of ALBYN MEDICAL SL to better serve its customers in Belgium and Luxembourg.

Brigitte Boucart, CEO of Boucart Medical, commented: "I am delighted to pass on the baton to Luis Collantes, CEO of Albyn Medical. I know Albyn Medical for years and I am sure that the company is in good hands. Boucart and Albyn have a lot in common with a clear focus on customer's needs. I am convinced that Albyn Medical is the best partner to continue what I have started 30 years ago."

Luis Collantes, Albyn Medical President, said: "Boucart Medical is a natural fit with the Albyn Medical offering and neatly complements our established European footprint. Their business, like ours, is focussed around a sales driven culture with an experienced team in the sector who have built up a loyal network of customers. This is an excellent entry point into the Belux market for the wider range of innovative products we have across the enlarged group."
